The County received the following Questions:

1. Is the distress limited to the areas captured in the RFQ Exhibit A, or do the photographs represent distress throughout the building?

Answer: The pictures represent some of the distress throughout the building, but it is not limited to those shown.

2. Will an interview be required as part of this qualification package? If yes, who will be invited to the interview? Will it be face-to-face or virtual?

Answer: An interview is not required at this time. The County reserves the right to ask for interviews after receiving qualifications from firms.

3. For projects of this nature, what have you done in the past regarding engineering services?

Answer: The County uses the RFQ process when selecting qualified firms to provide professional engineering services.

4. Do all Yadkin County structural engineering projects go through the solicitation and qualifications phase?

Answer: This is the second instance that Yadkin County has required the services of a structural engineer.
